2019 IMPACT REPORT
Since 1996, PEDS has been dedicated to making streets and communities in Georgia safe, inviting, and accessible to all pedestrians.

And while our many victories over the years have been duly noted, our work is hardly over.

As the new leader of PEDS, I can enthusiastically share that our team is talented and passionate about making streets safer for pedestrians. We are building new relationships and strengthening old ones because change comes more easily when there is a united front. Your commitment to PEDS allows us to continue advocating for pedestrians, especially those in underserved communities.

Our achievements over the past year would not have been possible without your support, so thank you so much for partnering with us. We will continue to shine a bright light on the changes that must take place on our streets to make our communities safe and walkable for all.
We provided training workshops and partnered with Girl Trek to instruct members how to complete a Walk Audit and advocate for changes.

WALKtober
4 weeks of fun on foot
We celebrated Sally Flocks’ retirement and welcomed our new President & CEO, Cathy Tyler.
People who attended the 2019 Georgia Walks Summit returned home informed, connected, and inspired.

Workshops and walk sessions covered a variety of topics for planners, engineers, advocates and more!

“It was a perfect program.” – SUMMIT ATTENDEE
We took part in a human protected sidewalk demonstration to advocate for Safe Streets for All.

We participated in a Walk & Roll with City Council and advocates to push for sidewalk improvements near The Shepherd Center.
